Le « petit + » grammatical

Conjuguons Be (être) et Have (avoir)

BE au présent :	BE au passé :
■ I am	■ I was
■ You are	■ You were
■ He / She / it is	■ He / She / it was
■ We are	■ We were
■ You are	■ You were
■ They are	■ They were
HAVE au présent :	HAVE au passé :
■ I have	■ I had
■ You have	■ You had
■ He / She / it has	■ He / she / it had
■ We have	■ We had
■ You have	■ You had
■ They have	■ They had

ATTENTION !

Pour demander son âge à quelqu'un on pose la question suivante :

↳ How old are you?

Pour donner son âge on répond :

↳ I am 18 years old.

On utilise bien le verbe être et non pas avoir comme en français.

Introducing my family

2

Je présente ma famille

.....

I. Voici ce que vous pourriez entendre.

Hi! My name is Gina and I'm going to talk about my family. My family is a big family and all my relatives are very nice! First, let's talk about my parents. My father, John, is 47 years old and he's an engineer. My mother, Vicky, is 45 and she is a teacher. I have one brother and two sisters: Mathew, Helen and Sarah. They are 18, 16 and 14 years old. We all live together in a big house near London. I really like my grandparents. My grandfather is funny and my grandmother is a very good cook. I have two uncles, two aunts and three lovely cousins. We don't see them very often because they live abroad. We sometimes have wonderful holidays together. I love my family!
